lightful music and the immense throng danced from 8 o'cleck in the evening until daybress. It was one of the most social and enjoyable gatherings of the sort that even took place in Omaha. At midnight support was served in the dining hall by the management of the One Minute chop touse.

The feature of the evening was the publication of "Yo Printers' Annual," a four-pace paper containing not only a grist of local and telegraph news of yesterday, but personal mention of a great many city officials and other prominent persons who were present. It was midnight when the first edition went to press. The typ was set in the presence of the guests, a press was on the stage, and the entire work of issuing a newspaper was done as the dancers glided merrily about the ball room, it was a neverty, and will be taiked about by every one who was there for months to come.

THE WAY TO GET TO THE LARGEST IMPLEMENT HOUSE IN THE WORLD

SWINDLED BY HER HUSBAND. An American Girl Who Now Regrets

An American Girl Who Now Regrets Her Foreign Marriage.

New York, Feb. 14.—[Special Telegram to The Bre.]—Mrs. Mary Danesi is one of those young American heiresses who thought berself four years ago very lucky to get a handsome foreigner of neble family for a husband, but she now regrets her step and is forced to acknowledge her regret in the courts. Her husband is Captain Giovanni Danesi of the Italian army and a member of a neble family for Turn. She now finds that this noble family of Turn. She now finds that this noble family of Turn. She now finds that his noble family and the fact that she could not read Italian and made her sign notes to the amount of $50,000, on which she is now sued. Mrs. Danesi's lawyer contonds that she cannot be compelled to pay the notes either under the laws of France, where they were made; of Italy, where they were payable, or New York, where it is sought to enforce them. Mrs Danesi has an income of about $40,000 a year loft her by her father, who died in 1880. She admits that she signed some of the notes for her husband. They were drawn up in Italian and she did not examine them very cleaved It, told her that ber signatore was merely a matter of form and she says that she never received a doilar of the money that was advanced. She was given to understand that the amount involved was $10,000. She found out her mistake when served with the papers in this suit about a year ago. A part of this very large amount went for the support of other women whom the gay captain had in tow, and a part went to notaries and others who had joined with the ERICE RING.

country such an absurd custom should be permitted. Why, in the name of all that's reasonable, do they not compel these howing bors to carry placards bearing the names of the newspapers they sell and allow them to bawl in this idiotic way into the ears of masers-by? I dare say, however, it would be considered as striking at the strongheld of freedom if one should advocate such a reform. It seems to me that in New York the personal soufoot of the multitude is subservient to the freedom of the few. Hecently the Central house, at the corner of Thirty-fourth street and Broadway, was closed up. It had become a notorious resort and was frequented by hard cases principally from Omaha, Since the closing of the place the windows have been smashed, doers broked from their hinges, outbuildings overturned, walls destroyed and the property otherwise badly damaged.

The work of grading Avenue A from Thirteenth to Sixteenth streets is progressing rapidly, but as yet the motor company has not made a move to raise their tracks. This has caused considerable trouble with property owners, and as a result a potition is boing circulated which will be presented to the city council at the meeting next Monday night asking that the company be compelled to raise their tracks to grade.

Alexandre in charge of the missionary work in that part of the city. In January of last year the new church was oreanized, with but a small band of faithful and willing hearts. On April 6 the society purchased five lots at the corner of Eightsenth street and Fifth avenue, paying therefor $1,500. On the 37th of the same meant the church was given the name "The Fifth Avenue Mothodist Episcopai of Comeil Huffs, and of the Des Monnes Conference." The question of the crection of a new church was canvassed and the congregation was unanimously it favor of the move. The cost was fixed at $2,000, but later it was decided to increase the amount to $4,500. Subscription papers were circulated and in a short time the work of Rev. S. Alexander had progressed sufficiently to warrant the letting of a contract. Articles of incorporation of the church society were fited with County Recorder Thomas on the 5th of May. On the 10th of September the corner stone of the edifice was blaced in position, with imposing ceremones, a large number of ministers from surrounding towns being present. Hishop Warren presided. Since that time work on the church structure has been posited, until its final completion this week.

Dunn waived an examination, and the case was sent to the grand jury, by which body he was indicted. He tried to dispose of one of the stolen revolvers, and this led to his apprehension. Since his incarceration in jail Dunn has concluded to turn state's evidence, ann he accordingly signed an information charging Edward Orr and Ed Darlington with the crime. He alleges that he received the revolver from Orr. Warrants were issued by Justice Sohurs for the arrest of both parties, and Orr was brought over from Omaha yeardray and the sought the revolver at a paw shop, and denies any connection with the burgiary, in stating that he was not even aware that the representation of the property of the came across the river without a requisition. A careful examination of the principles upon which the order is founded show it to be of an excentionally safe and liberal character, offering at the least expense the greatest security and benefits to members and beneficiaries of any of benevolent organizations founded on these broad principles of mutual assistance and protection. Indury in this direction shows that fraternal insurance has been in perpetual existence since the eleventh contury, and that there never has been one failure, while the present century has witnessed the establishment of over each tundered security and while the present century has witnessed the establishment of over each tundered security in the United States alone, and the wreck of all but less than fifty of them.

The Fraternal Mystic Circle has a large surplus fund and guarantees the fewest death assessments of any organization on earth.

Mr. Amsbury will establish a local organization on Monday night at the Royal Arcanum periors. He already has a large number of charter members who are prominent in social life, but there is room for a fow more.
